

We take safety seriously at Trinity Industries. While working, employees are required to use the appropriate safety and other personal protective equipment at all times. Some of the visual content on this site was obtained during non-working hours or under non-working conditions when an employee's use of safety and other personal protective equipment was not compulsory.